

Little Machaba – Where dreams come to life

There cannot be many who have not dreamt of watching Africa's majestic animals in their own habitat whether that be great open plains, glistening waterways or riverine trees. Now capture that image and start building on it.

Imagine if those animals and birds could be viewed via mokoro (the traditional dugout canoe), on foot, or by open safari vehicle day or night.

What if this journey of discovery could also take in the flora and fauna, the people, food, languages and tradition leaving you with a sense of fulfillment.

Limiting the impact on this place of beauty surely must be next. Somewhere that offers maximum comfort to guests with a minimum impact on the environment.

I want to go there with my partner, or my friends or my family, but I don't want there to be many others. I want this piece of paradise with only a few.

Capture all of this in your wish list and ask yourself – where can I find such a place?

That place is Little Machaba – Eco-luxury at its finest

Comprising of just 4 ensuite tented suites (which includes 2 family suites), Little Machaba is a traditional safari-style camp in the game-rich Khwai concession in the north-eastern region of the Okavango Delta, Botswana. An intimate camp built on raised decks allowing the tents to be linked to the main area by a pathway that winds through the riverine trees. With a maximum capacity of 8 guests and a dedicated team of staff, Little Machaba is the epitome of an intimate and personal safari experience.

Bring your dream to life as you watch Africa unfold from your private deck or your outdoor freestanding bathtub. Even as you turn in for the night, the sounds of the Delta can be heard through the canvas tent that separates you from the bushveld.

Little Machaba is an eco-friendly and sustainable camp that ensures that the natural habitat that they are privileged to share with the wildlife and local tribes is not adversely impacted.

But don't just take my word for it. Come and make your own dreams come true.
